

Polluting a huge amount of spectrum with this messy system is a bad idea. It will have a terrible impact on HF amateur radio, which has literally safe the lives of me and my son in wilderness emergencies. To cripple amateur radio this way is like introducing suburban development into our National Park system: it will make money for a few private companies, but what will we have left in the end? PLEASE do not allow BPL in the United States of America. Thank you.